

Miller & Rhoads

Novelties in Women's Neckwear

Dainty new fashion-thrills, eloquent of the latest Parisian thought, that give the last touch of completeness to a woman's costume. Bows, collars, side ruffles and a host of others as becoming to the wearer as they are artistic in design.

At 25c—Dainty new side ruffles, made of net embroidery in white and cream.

At 50c—New Irish Crochet Neckwear, in low Dutch like effects; collars, cuffs and Gibson collars, very special.

At 50c—Bows in all the latest shapes, including rosebuds and fringed effects; in green, king's blue, old rose, purple and light blue.

At 50c—New, $1.00 and $1.50 Neckwear, in white, cream and black; cuffs to match.

At 75c—each and up to $6.50 sets, in plain tucked and all the new side effects; lace trimmed and embroidered in cream and white.

At $1.00 to $2.00—Lace Collars and Cuffs, in the smart pointed and round effects.

And ever so many others, many of which are to be found exclusively at Miller & Rhoads.

Women's Neckwear Section—Main Floor, Rear.

FREAK APPEALS MADE FOR BEATTE

Woman Claims She Journeyed From Florida to Help Save Prisoner.

PHRENOLOGIST IS ON SCENE

Wants to Examine Beattie's Head—Governor Gets Sunday Confessions.

While the proposition that it takes all sorts of people to make up a world is a truism, it is equally a fact that some of the interesting types do not appear until a horrible crime has been committed. Richmond is having the first experience in some years of dealing with new specimens.

Not only is the Governor being still deluged with letters regarding the disposition of the case of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., but some people have come to the city, attracted by the approaching final horrors of the tragedy which has claimed the attention of the civilized world.

Came From Florida. As Judge James Keith, president of the Supreme Court of Appeals, was leaving the State Library building just after the adjournment of the court early yesterday afternoon, he was accosted by a woman who engaged him in conversation in the main corridor. She said she had come from Florida to help Beattie. Judge Keith told her that the whole matter had gone out of his hands, the court having taken its final action last Monday.

A resident of South Carolina, claiming to be an expert phrenologist, has shown up both at the Capitol and at State Penitentiary. His only aim, he says, is to make a scientific examination of the head of the prisoner. It is the theory of the individual, the actor of the individual, is determined by the scalp. Taking for granted that Beattie is guilty, if his head should show the results expected by the science of phrenology, that science would be strengthened just to this extent.

The penitentiary officials declined to permit this scientist, who says he is also a railroad man, to see Beattie. He then went to the Governor's office, but with no better success, and his examination is entirely unlikely to be made.

Some Freak Letters. Practically all of the letters received by the Governor are totally sentimental and contain no element of reason. Some of the writers criticize him for his refusal to interfere with the judgment of the courts; other commend him. One only attempts to argue the case in and in.

Next Portrait Is Daniel's. Colonel H. B. Freeman, from the portrait committee reported that the picture of the late Senator John W. Daniel had been donated by friends in Lynchburg.

The matter was left with the employment committee. The portrait of the late Senator John W. Daniel had been donated by friends in Lynchburg. The committee, and arrangements are being made for the portrait to be placed in the hall of the State House, probably on some night in December.

The camp decided to disinter the body of a member of the torpedo battery, which did such execution against Federal gunboats in the James River, and bury it in the cemetery at New Market. The body was found in the camp, probably on some night in December.

Strikes Trouble. Two bollmen charged with beating Charles Miller. W. A. Egan and D. W. Taylor, bollmen of the American Locomotive Works, were arrested at the Richmond branch of the American Locomotive Works yesterday on a charge of assaulting and beating Charles Miller.

Case Submitted to Court. In the case of the Henrico Lumber Company against J. H. Lacy, pending in the City Circuit Court, the jury has been discharged yesterday after the evidence was heard, and the whole case was submitted to the court for decision.

Workman Badly Hurt. Caught in Moving Elevator While Working at Hotel Richmond. Miscalculating the distance when he was about to jump from a moving elevator yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Richmond, where a big annex is being constructed, L. E. Mayner, a plumber's helper, of Durham, N. C., about thirty years old, was caught beneath the hoist and severely injured. He was taken to the Memorial Hospital in the city ambulance.

Escape from Reformatory. John Yeaman, fifteen; Ford Steel, seventeen; and John Shuffey, fifteen years of age, were reported yesterday as having run away from the State Reformatory at Laurel. The Richmond police were notified. It is believed they were on their way here.

Tablet Unveiled. TONOTED SURGEON. High tribute to the devotion and efficiency of Dr. Samuel Preston Moore, surgeon-general of the confederate army, was paid in the address of Dr. George Tucker Harrison at the unveiling yesterday of the tablet to the memory of Dr. Moore. The tablet, the gift of the Confederate Memorial Literary Society, has been placed on the house corner of the old site of Dr. Moore's home during the latter part of the war between the States, on the corner of Jefferson and Grace Streets.

Identifies Suits. Miss Beale M. Willis, of 107 East Grace Street, reported to the police yesterday morning that she had been robbed of her suitcases while in Byrd Street Station. The suitcases, which she had been carrying, were identified as belonging to her.

In Bankruptcy. Charles E. Lefev, a salesman, yesterday filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in the office of the clerk of the United States District Court. His liabilities are little more than $500, while he claims no assets.

SAFE OFFICIALS ARE CRITICIZED

Said to Have Refused to Appoint Veterans to Minor Positions.

MATTER BEFORE LEE CAMP

Portrait of Senator Daniel Will Be Formally Presented Next Month.

State officials, notably Auditor S. R. Donahue and Register of the Land Office John W. Richardson, have refused to comply with the resolution of the last Legislature to the effect that Confederate veterans should be given the preference in appointments to minor positions, according to state-mandated law.

Tale of a Clerk. "You will remember when John Jackson was appointed franchise clerk in the Auditor's office. He was from Richmond—the Third District. When he died suddenly, he went to the Auditor's office, and asked that a Confederate soldier be put there, but was told the office must go to the Second District. Mr. Trehy recommended a young man named Stein, and when his health broke down a few months ago, I again tried to get a veteran in, but instead was given an office to a friend of mine, I understand from Roanoke."

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

CORPORATION TAX SHOWS BIG GAIN

Steam Railroads Pay $930,575.21 Into Treasury of the State.

CONVICT GIVES SELF UP

Goes Back to Roads—Big Democratic Majority in Ninth District.

Public service corporations will pay into the treasury of the State for 1911 the sum of $930,575.21 more than they paid in 1910, according to a statement issued yesterday by the State Corporation Commission. The total taxes amount to $1,155,547.24, of which $224,972.03 comes from steam railroad companies.

Next highest on the list are the street railway companies, with taxes amounting to $67,768.31. Then come the light, heat and power companies, with $39,062.08. Other sources of income are as follows: Telephone and telegraph companies, $27,024.55; steamboat and steamship companies, $17,745.46; sleeping car companies, $4,433.58; canal companies, $2,233.82; lumber and mining companies, $1,837.33.

The sum received from steam railroads, $930,575.21 is property tax, and $224,972.03 is for franchise and license taxes.

The assessed values of all steam railroads in the State for 1911 is $108,426,324. There was no general increase in valuations this year as was the case in 1910, the growth in values being due to the natural increase in the volume of business. The rate of the Virginia, a new road, was raised to some extent.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

Convict Surrenders. Man Who Escaped from Road Gang Returns to Custody. J. H. Payne, an escaped convict from Norfolk, who departed without leave from a road gang, appeared at the Governor's office yesterday morning and surrendered himself. It is probable that he chose this method because of the fact that he had been trying for some time to get a pardon, which would hardly have been issued as long as he was a fugitive from justice.

SATURDAY'S BARGAINS

EVERY ITEM MEANS AN EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY FOR YOU.

AT $10.00—Broken lots of Men's Winter Weight Overcoats, worth $18.00.

AT $12.50—Broken lots of Winter Weight Overcoats worth up to $25.00.

AT $10.00—Broken lots of Men's Winter Weight Overcoats $25.00.

AT $15.00—Men's Blue, Black and Mixed Suits worth $20.00.

AT $12.50—Men's Heavy Weight Overcoats worth $18.00.

AT 7.50—Men's Tan Top Coats worth up to $18.00.

AT $9.75—Men's Tan Top Coats worth up to $25.00.

AT $2.95—Men's Extra Trousers worth $4.50.

AT $1.95—Men's Velour Hats worth $3.00.

AT $1.15—Men's Walking Gloves worth $1.50.

AT 79c—Men's Flannellette Night Shirts worth $1.00.

AT 48c—Men's Cotton Night Shirts worth $1.00.

AT 75c—for half-dozen Men's Black and Tan Hose worth 25c pair.

AT $2.45—Boys' Knickerbocker Suits worth $4.50.

AT $3.95—Boys' Knickerbocker Suits worth $6.50.

AT $4.95—Boys' Knickerbocker Suits worth $7.50.

AT 65c—Boys' Knickerbocker Pants worth $1.00.

AT $2.45—Girls' Rubber Capes worth $4.00.

AT $2.45—Broken lots of Children's Overcoats and Reefers worth up to $5.00.

AT $4.95—Broken lots of Children's Overcoats and Reefers worth up to $8.50.

AT $4.95—Broken lots of Boys' Long Overcoats, ages 12 to 18, worth up to $12.50.

AT $5.75—Girls' Latest Style Reefers, in solid colors and fancy chevrons, worth $7.50.

GANS-RADY COMPANY

PRESIDENT TO SPEAK AT JEFFERSON HOTEL

Change in Road Congress Program by Committee Eliminates Big Event at City Auditorium—Convention Folk Hard at Work.

One change was made yesterday in the program for the entertainment of President Taft on Monday, the officers of the Good Roads Congress requesting that the President's address to that body be made in the Jefferson auditorium instead of the City Auditorium. Special seats will be reserved for members of the Good Roads Association, and the remainder of the house will be thrown open to citizens up to the capacity. The President therefore will be taken from his special train at Elba Station, arriving Monday morning at 10:15 o'clock, directly to his rooms at the Jefferson Hotel, and thence to the platform of the convention hall under the same roof. He speaks at 11 A. M. The luncheon will take place in the main dining room of the Jefferson at 1 P. M., so that the President's party will not be on the streets again until 3 P. M. when the motor car will depart for the trip to the battlefields at Seven Pines. It has proved impracticable to complete the arrangements that were on foot to bring the Virginia Military cadets to Richmond at this time, and all military features have therefore been eliminated. The program in fact did not go to the length of the parade, and would have been arranged had the cadets come, and the local militia would then have been invited to take part.

Program Approved by Illies. The amended program for the full day was submitted yesterday to Secretary D. H. Hill, who, as Secretary of the general committee, has the honor of its approval. No further change can now be made in the details except with the consent of the President himself.

While in the city the President will be driven by Robert B. Alport. Mr. Foster will drive the pilot car, in which will be the committee charged with preserving the safety of the President. Acceptances of invitations to the luncheon were received yesterday from United States Senators Martin and Swanson, both of whom are on the program for the day. Monday to the Good Roads Convention.

The joint committee of citizens and members of the City Council which has the arrangements for the reception to the President in hand will meet at the Jefferson Hotel to-night at 8 o'clock to go over every detail and perfect all plans. At that time the selection of toastmaster, speakers and the seating at the speakers' table will be approved